Richards and Rogers Mentioned On Little All-American Squad

and Guard on Bearcat Team are Honored by Associated Press Scribes

Fred Richards, center, and Fred Rogers, guard, on the Bearcat football team, were given honorable mention on the Little All-American football team picked by the writers for the Associated Press. The Little All-American is chosen from outstanding players of small colleges who do not have a chance to "shine" before the big crowds. The players must be from schools with an enrollment of less than one thousand students.

Frederick Godard, Cape Girardeau, was rated a berth on the first team of the Little All-American. He is rated by experts as one of the best linebackers of the nation.

Students in the College were furnished forty-five hilarious moments by "The Pot Boiler," one-act play produced by the class in production, under the direction of Dr. J. P. Kelly, chairman of the department of speech, in assembly yesterday morning. The laughter of the audience attested to the splendid acting of the following cast: Jesse Singleton, Margaret McLaughlin, Mynatt Breidenthal, Mary Turner, Glade Bilby, Harley Hines and Beverly Sharp.

June Ernst, Clarinda, Ia., violinist, and Turner Tyson, Skidmore, baritone, entertained with numbers at the opening of the assembly.

Team Meets William Jewell and Pittsburg Fives on Maryville Basketball Court

TWO HARD BATTLES EXPECTED

The College Bearcats will play two non-conference games within a week, encountering the William Jewell cagers of Liberty here tonight, and the Pittsburg Teachers of Pittsburg, Kans., Monday night, here. Both games are called for 8 p.m.

William Jewell is a member of the M.C.A.U. conference and always places a good team on the floor. However, Maryville rates as the favorite, its height and individual power being the reasons for this rating.

The Bearcats will be in for a full evening Monday night. The Pittsburg Gorillas are always plenty, tough and this year is no exception. Although three of last year's starting five are gone, Pitt seems as strong as ever, especially when one considers the fact that the Gorillas have won two games already this year by comfortable margins.

No starting line-ups are available at this time, but Coach Stalcup is expected to use at least a dozen men in each contest.

PROTEST LIBRARY LIGHTS

Los Angeles, Cal.—(ACP)—A "Candle Light Brigade," 250 strong, marched into the library of the University of California at Los Angeles in protest against the inadequate lighting facilities of the building.

Studying at night, they maintained, was extremely difficult by the bad light, so they had brought along their own candles to add to the illumination.

Bearcats Trounce Nebraska Wesleyan In Season's Opener

Hull Paces Local Scorers With 17 Points: Visitors Unable to Penetrate Defense

The Bearcat basketball team opened its 1937-38 season last Friday night at the local gym with a lop-sided victory over Nebraska Wesleyan of Lincoln, 46 to 27.

The first 5 minutes were sufficient to predict the final outcome. Soon after the opening tip-off Maryville jumped into the lead on goals by Hull and Salmon and never were headed. The score at the half was 29 to 8.

Hull, center, and only freshman to start the game, was the game's high scorer, bagging 17 points. Johnson, another freshman, was second high with 7 points. For the Nebraskans, Davis, a clever ball handler, led his team's scoring with 7 points.

The 'Cats easily dominated the play in the first half. The height advantage enjoyed by the locals, coupled with superior team-play and shooting ability was too much for the visiting Nebraskans. Numerous goal attempts were knocked down by the rangy, alert Bearcat defense men, allowing the Wesleyan basket-eers only hurried or long goal thrusts. The visitors were held to two field goals in the first half. In the second half, the defense seemed to let down, allowing the Nebraskans to run up their score.

As is to be expected of early season engagements, the play was ragged and rough, a total of thirty-two fouls being called. Twenty-one of these were called on the Bearcats.

Coach Wilbur Stalcup kept up a steady stream of substitutions in an attempt to see all possible combinations in actual competition and to give much needed experience to freshman candidates.

GAME COMMENT

Of the eighteen Bearcats who saw service last Friday night, ten are from Nodaway County, and six are graduates of Maryville high school. This should be an incentive for local basketball fans to attend the College games.

Even this early in the season, and with little at stake, a certain amount of "booing" the officials in charge was heard at the game. What will this be when there is an important contest?

Maryville residents at the game were especially elated when five boys, all Maryville high graduates were on the floor. One rabid fan even voiced his feelings with a loud "You can't beat Maryville high."

Although prospects are good for a winning team the next few years, Coach Stalcup has a "hard row to hoe" this year, considering the number of first year men on the squad. However, with no conference games scheduled until after the holidays, some of the rough edges should be smooth when the important battles come along.

M-I.A.A. Meeting Held In Kansas City

Representatives from all six M.I.A.A. conference schools met in Kansas City Saturday, Dec. 4, to dispose of business matters regarding the conference athletic program.

Officers elected for the year were: C. Y. Clayton, Rolla, president; W. W. Parker, Cape Girardeau, vice-president; S. H. Jamison, Kirksville, secretary-treasurer.

Maryville was selected as the place for the 1938 conference track and field meet.

Much time was taken discussing the new football schedule, which is found in another place in this newspaper.

The conference officials discussed an action to standardize awards given at the different colleges, but no action was taken.

The M.I.A.A. constitution was amended, allowing the conference to set the time and place of the annual meetings in the future. The conference meeting next year will be held in Kansas City the same time as the Big Six conference meeting.

Maryville representatives at the meeting were: Pres. Uel W. Lamkin, Mr. E. A. Davis, director of athletics, Mr. H. R. Dieterich, chairman of the athletic committee, and Coaches Ryland Milner and Wilbur Stalcup.

WARNS AGAINST OVERDOING SOCIAL SCIENCES

Providence, R. I.—(ACP)—President Charles Seymour of Yale University warned American universities recently not to make liberal colleges merely schools of contemporary social science.

In speaking before the Association of American Universities at Brown University, he urged that colleges avoid developing departments of economics and politics at the expense of philosophy and literature.

"I know of no evidence to indicate that a man will make a better secretary of the interior, or a better collector of customs, or a better citizen, as a result of having concentrated upon the study of government than if he had concentrated on the Greek and Latin classics," he said.

A "faculty of presidents" this year dispenses knowledge to St. Olaf college students. Listed on the staff are eight educators who have served as presidents of other institutions.

HERE'S the DOPE

By WM. EVANS

With the football moleskins snugly packed in moth-balls, sports fans of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association are looking to the basketball race which promises to be plenty close. After a squint around the conference gymnasiums, a little information has been gathered that might be of interest to the reader.

Warrensburg, last year's champion, is expected to have about the same strength as last season. Of the five men who started and played most of the important games last year, three are back for this year. Only Workman and Niebrugge of last year's championship five were lost, leaving Troutwine and Keth, tall center and forward respectively, along with stocky Schneider, guard, around which to build this year's championship contender.

Prospects at Cape Girardeau are brightest in years. In fact some Cape fans are whooping it up for three championships this year. Already the Indians have copped the football crown, and with basket-ball and track prospects the best in many moons, their whoops are more than just hot air.

Although Coach C. P. Harris lost three stellar performers from last year's team in the McDonald twins, Gene and Joe, and Hayes Adams, he still has seven lettermen and several likely looking freshmen with which to shape this year's team.

Returning letter-men are Torchy Godwin, Hub Shroyer, Henry Norman, Harold Kiehne, Grover Crites, Jim Thornton and Kenneth Luke. Outstanding freshmen candidates are Carl Mayer, Jackson, an all-state honors winner, and Marion Nothdurft, 6 foot 4 inch center.

Basketball at Kirksville has been at a low ebb the last few seasons, but with eight letter-men returning, the situation should be improved this year. The returning letter-men are: Miller, Morse, Osburn, Brockman, Reece, Roark, Knop, and Woods. In addition, Snyder, tall center, ineligible last year, is available along with Troutman, former Tahlequah, Okla., college player.

Last year the Rolla Miners showed very little, and prospects are for about the same calibre team this season. The Miners seldom show much in basket ball and this year appears to be no exception.

Springfield always has a strong club in the race, and promises to give its opponents some headaches again this year. However, it would be considered an upset for the Bears to win the crown.

Here at Maryville the situation is a big question mark. If freshmen material comes through in time, the Bearcats will be definite contenders.

RESPECTABLE "PONIES"

Chapel Hill, N. C.—(ACP)—"Ponies," used furtively by generations of schoolboys, have taken the mantle of respectability.

Interlinear translations of language texts is part of a new method of teaching language advanced by Dr. Meno Spann, Iowa State University German professor. It is outlined in a book, "Interlinear German Reader" and has been approved by the board of governors of the University of North Carolina Press where it is being printed. Most of the board are faculty members.

The reader has printed below each line of German a literal translation.

1939 and Future Years' Schedule of Football Drawn

Same Conference Schools To Meet Same Friday Each Year Under New Plan

Starting with the 1939 season, Missouri Inter-collegiate Athletic Association conference football schedule will have the same meeting on the same Fridays each year.

Beginning with the second Friday of October, 1939, the conference teams will play on succeeding days, with the exception of the third, which will be open, until teams have met.

The opening of the conference schedules will be on the same day as the district teachers meetings, home-comings of the schools, northern schools have home-comings on the second Friday of October, at which the southern schools will play. On the third Friday, October, the northern schools play at the southern schools for home-coming crowds.

The new action was taken at a meeting of conference officials last week-end in Kansas City.

Following is the 1939 schedule adopted for six Fridays beginning the second Friday of October:

First Friday—Cape Girardeau; Maryville; Springfield at Warrensburg; Rolla at Kirksville.

Second Friday—Warrensburg; Cape Girardeau; Kirksville; Springfield; Maryville at Rolla.

Third Friday—Open.

Fourth Friday—Cape Girardeau; Springfield; Warrensburg at Kirksville at Maryville.

Fifth Friday—Rolla at Cape Girardeau; Maryville at Springfield; Kirksville at Warrensburg.

Sixth Friday—Cape Girardeau; Kirksville; Springfield at Warrensburg at Maryville.

Lucille Lindberg, B. S. 1934, teaching this year in the schools of Evanston, Ill., finds work there very fascinating, enjoys being so near Chicago. Lindberg lives at the Library Hotel, Evanston.

"All freshmen must ask permission of a member of the Student Court for every date." This ruling elicited groans of dismay from freshmen at Midland College, Fremont, Nebraska.

Kappa Omicron Phi Founders Day Banquet

Kappa Omicron Phi observed its annual founders day with a dinner Saturday evening in the Rose Room of the Blue Moon cafe. This marked the fifteenth anniversary of the Alpha chapter of the national home economics fraternity, organized at the College by Miss Hettie M. Anthony, head of the home economics department.

"Snowfall" was used as the motif of the occasion. The long table was centered with a huge snowman, besprinkled with glittering blue snow.
Piled around were popcorn balls, representing snow balls. Small silver trees and blue tapers were placed at both ends of the table. Favors of marshmallow snowmen were presented each guest and the place cards were crystal snow balls tied with blue cellophane.

Edith Wilson, Oregon, local president, carried out the welcome to the group in terms of Hawthorne's story, "The Snow Image." Miss Anthony, speaking of "The First Snowfall," enumerated the accomplishments and activities of the Maryville chapter since 1922. Miss June Cozine of the home economics department of the College, alumna, in her talk, which like the others, was carried out along the snowfall theme, stressed the main pathways which the charter members followed.

Mary Peck, Fairfax, under the title, "Drifting Snow," told how the chapters have spread and included members of foreign nationality. Arlene Birdsell, Ravenwood, sang "A Smile," and led the group in the singing of Kappa Phi songs, composed by members.

Besides Miss Anthony and Miss Cozine, the following alumnae were present: Mrs. F. R. Marcell, Miss Lorena Gault, and Mrs. Roy Schrader, and the following actives: Mary Peck, La Donna Switzer, Dorothy Dalbey, Dean Miller, Margaret Lib-be, Edith Wilson, Lois Miller, Arlene Birdsell, Marion Burr, and Margie Farmer.

Black Ribbon is Mournful Fastener

If you are worried about the correct method of fastening your term paper ask Miss Katherine Franken of the education department, to see her collection of the wrong fastenings which she has collected to illustrate her point.

The psychology instructor can show you hairpins, safety pins, hat pins, string, needles or whatever the student happened to lay his hands on at the time of handing in the paper.

Miss Franken commented on a black ribbon used to tie one paper, saying it seemed so mournful. If you really wanted to fasten the theme the right wrong way use a brighter ribbon to suggest, of course, the bright contents of the theme. It wouldn't be good psychology as it might put ideas into the teachers head, to carry out the color scheme, you know.

What effect the red cross and campaign buttons were expected to have isn't clear, but Miss Franken believes that collecting is fun. But so is reading a term paper neatly clipped in the conventional manner.

Sylvester Keefe is Teaching In LaJara

That Sylvester Keefe, a graduate of the College who is teaching at present in LaJara, Colo., thinks well of Ramon E. "Zeke" Kiouss, senior in the College, was indicated in a letter received last week by Dr.
O. Myking Mehus of the social science department.

Keefe says: "I have been following the 'ups' and 'downs' of the football team (Bearcats) in the Denver Post. I learn that my old friend, Kiouss, is playing this year. No doubt you have him in class. Kiouss has a very alert mind and among the students with whom I was acquainted at College, I count him among the most interesting.

Many Truck Gardens

In telling of the town in which he is located, Keefe says: "It is located in the southern part of the state in what is known as the San Luis valley of Colorado. This valley has the name of being one of the richest (soil) in the country. The farmers specialize in truck gardening. In the town we have a canning factory and numerous commission sheds in which the vegetables are prepared for shipping. They go to eastern markets. If you know where Alamosa, know where that is because Dr.

Richardson, who was one time president of the college there at Maryville, is president of Adam's State Normal at Alamosa. While at school in Boulder this summer, I happened to meet the superintendent of schools here and as a result have a job handling the commercial subjects."

Keefe told of the school in which he was teaching, saying that it has a "very cosmopolitan" enrollment.
Spanish, Mexicans and Japanese, are enrolled there, as it is only a short distance from the border between New Mexico and Colorado.

LaJara is a typical Mexican town, the greater share of the houses being built of "dobe," according to Keefe.

"The school has a total enrollment of five hundred students," Keefe writes. "These Spanish-American families are noted for their large numbers. There are eight teachers in high school and a total of eighteen in the system. I am enjoying my work here this year much more than I did last year at Crary, N. D.
The superintendent is a very progressive worker in the field of education, and it is our hope that our experience here will be beneficial to both parties.

40 Per Cent Japanese

Keefe reports that he has been "carrying on for peace." On Armistice day, his school sponsored a peace program featured by a freshman debate on "Should the U. S.
Participate." "It was a ticklish debate, as about 40 per cent of the students are Japanese," Keefe says.

"There is no racial prejudice whatsoever among the students," he continued. "In school the Japanese very much outdo the others.
Japanese boys and girls play with American and the Spanish-American. No student is more appreciative than the Japanese student for what is done in his behalf, and that is something I cannot say for the American children, in most cases.
Regardless of how I feel in regard to the Japanese government in their attitude toward China, we must take hats off to them for their thrift and persistence in carrying out a project."

Keefe expressed his desire to have The Northwest Missourian sent to him so he could "follow the events" at the College.

THE CHRISTMAS FORMAL

Next Tuesday evening the College students will don their white ties, top hats and tails, and long, sweeping dresses and proceed to the beautifully decorated West Library where they will dance in the atmosphere of the annual all-school Christmas formal. A grand occasion it will be, as it has been the last few years.

The annual dance, in years past and in this, has been discussed pro and con in regard to limiting the number of couples who will attend, the price of the affair and the idea of it being formal. The College social committee, taking the entire student body into consideration, has this year practically eliminated a couple of those "cons" by making the place of the dance in the Library instead of the Country Club, thereby raising the "limited" number, and by reducing the price from one dollar per couple to fifty cents per couple. They have, however, kept the dance formal, as, we believe, it should be.

So far as the entire College is concerned, the Christmas Ball is the only formal dance of the year. Since it is the only dance of the year at which all of the students in the College who care to can meet together in formal attire, we feel that everyone should favor such a dance.

Christmas, with its many varied decorations, is in itself one of the most beautiful seasons of the year. So much more color is lent to the regular decorations by the multi-colored formal dresses of the ladies in attendance at the dance—a good reason for the dance being formal.

While the number of persons is this year again limited—to 150 couples—the social committee has granted permission to students to invite guests out of school. There is one provision in connection with inviting out-of-school guests, and that is that the students doing the inviting shall use Guest Cards, which may be secured in the director of women's activities' office. In that manner the College authorities will have a record of who attended the dance besides regular students.

So, students, let's don our best formal attire and join a happy throng in the Library Tuesday night and spend the eve before vacation in dancing to the strains of the good dance music.

A WORD ON THE HANDBOOK

At the time of voting for Student Senate officers last Monday, each student was presented with a copy of the Student Handbook, which is published by the Senate.

In this handbook can be found words of greetings from administrative officers, the Student Senate officers, and College regulations and information which is valuable to every student in the College to know.

These books are issued for the benefit of the students of the College and are to be used by them as a reference and guide in their college work. A copy should be kept where it can be used at any time by the student. The rules and regulations that it sets forth are declared official by the Student Senate.

YOUTH GOES TO TOWN

The American Youth Congress is leading a drive against further reductions in federal appropriations for the benefit of young people, according to Marvin Cox, astute Washington correspondent of the Associated Collegiate Press.

The congress maintains that the present cut in N.Y.A. funds from $75,000,000 to $50,000,000 has deprived 185,000 high school and college students of aid necessary to their further schooling. Cox puts the figure at somewhere near 80,000 and 100,000 students.

Not only the Congress but student groups over the country, the National Student Federation and hundreds of school newspapers have been loud and protesting in their discussions of the N.Y.A. cut. They are unanimous in their declaration that cut-off students are entitled to an education in this land of equal opportunity. N.Y.A. students are not objects of charity. They work for their money. As eager workers they are entitled to jobs which will allow them equal schooling.

The present aggressive resistance of youth groups to the reduction reveals a significant development, according to Cox. "American youth," he writes, "has become amazingly vocal... Like other groups it has learned to kick up its heels and howl when it wants something from Uncle Sam... The fact is that young people have voting strength; more perhaps than they realize. And when they are organized intelligently, they can get results."

CAMPUS COMMENT

Extra-Special! The College social committee has announced that it is its intention to instill a little life into the students on the campus sometime during the "deadest" part of the winter months by sponsoring an all-school sports party. The affair will probably be held at the Maryville Country Club on a more or less spontaneously announced date. (This will be done because the committee may not be able to arrange for snow on the ground on a certain date, were one set.)

Our advice to students, however, is that when they go to their homes during Christmas vacation, they pack their warm clothing, ice skates and other winter sports equipment the first thing; and come back prepared to enjoy a big all-school party when suitable weather permits.

The Bearcats came through in good shape last Friday night when they won a decided victory over Nebraska Wesleyan of Lincoln. All members of the several different combinations on the floor during the evening looked exceptionally good considering the facts that this was the debut of the team for this season and that there were so many first-year men who saw service.

Incidentally, those first-year men appeared on the court like veteran players. Harold Hull, freshman, all-state center on Maryville high school's state championship team of last year, started the locals scoring for the year when he sunk a field goal early in the game.

An orchid to the College band. Its performance at the game last week was indeed commendable.

This newspaper next week will come out Wednesday instead of Thursday and will appear immediately following the Christmas 'Candlelight ceremony in the auditorium. Thus all copy for the issue will necessarily need to be in the hands of the editor by Monday night, or Tuesday noon at the very latest. Next week's edition will "rush" the staff considerably, and it is planned to give the students a full eight-page edition. So the co-operation of all students and faculty members in getting the edition out will be appreciated.

The campus was shocked and grieved last week upon word of the death of Francis Sloniker, a graduate of the College who was one of the most distinguished and popular gentlemen who ever attended classes here. We join with many other people in extending our sympathy to his survivors.

The Poets' Corner

One of the finest poems the Missourian has ever had the honor of printing was nearly spoiled last week, when through an error, a title which the author did not write was published over it. Elizabeth Wright is a talented poet. We offer her our deepest regret.

We are glad, however, that we have an opportunity to call the poem to the attention of our readers again.

I saw the Mona Lisa cry—

She puckered up her mouth

And the famous smile was gone,

But it didn't last very long.

And feeling tears there on my

I began to understand

That they were really from my

FIRST IN 18 YEARS!

To have driven a College or automobile—or any bus or automobile—for 18 successful years without an accident was a record in anybody's diary. It is exactly the record of J. Trullinger, bus driver who transports daily many boys and girls who attend the College training school.

Last Thursday morning, however, proved to be a jinx for Trullinger, for it was then that he had his first, unavoidable accident in over eighteen years. He was driving the College car and no one was with him when he collided with Harry Green's car on the College drive. One was injured in the accident of last week.

So, after having driven College automobiles for a good many more than 100,000 miles, we still may say that Joel Trullinger has never had an accident which resulted in serious injury to life or property.

Dean Speaks Well Of C.C.C. Students

"Happy Days," the newspaper of Company 1726 of the Civilian Conservation Corps, recently published in its editorial columns the following comment on a letter concerning the CCC men who are enrolled in the College, written from Dr. J. C. Miller, dean of the College faculty, to President Uel W. Lamkin:

"The dean of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College at Maryville, Mo., has had an opportunity of 'checking up' on CCC men who spend part of their time in this college. In a report to School President Uel W. Lamkin, the dean points out that 22 CCC men took work at the college during the past year and that the grades made by these men were well above the average.

"The dean said further: 'I have been very favorably impressed with the splendid attitude of these young men and the genuineness of their purpose. As their attendance does not permit a carrying of a full schedule, I have asked that they be assigned to me as an adviser. They respond quickly and courteously to any request I make and the reports from their instructors express the earnest and conscientious work of these students.'

"Which speaks well for the CCC, and likewise for a college."

Alsbaugh Competes In Poetry Contest

Jack Alsbaugh, St. Joseph, a graduate of the College, class of 1936 with a B. S. and A. B. degree, participated in a $500.00 poetry prize contest sponsored to secure additional poetry for publication in "Christmas Lyrics of 1937," an unusual compilation of timely and meritorious poetry.

The author will be represented in the anthology by the poem, "Phantasmagoria," which ran in the edition of The Northwest Missourian of April 23, 1937.

The volume of Christmas lyrics will contain the representative work of distinguished contemporary American poets. The inclusion of the author's work, not only indicates a possibility of placing in the prize money, but is a distinct sign of literary merit. He has had several works published in The Missourian.

Alsbaugh was born in 1912 and was educated in the public schools of St. Joseph. He graduated in 1932 from St. Joseph Junior College and attended the College here, receiving the Bachelor of Science degree in 1936, and the Bachelor of Art degree in 1937.

Another contest which will be conducted by the Beacon Publications company of New York, publishers of "Christmas Lyrics," will take place in the near future and which will elicit material for a book titled "Vendors of Song." First prize will be $100 cash or the issuance of a book of the winning poets' verse on a royalty basis. Rules for the new contest are:

1. Original, unpublished poems, under thirty-two lines are preferred, but reprints may be submitted.
2. There are no restrictions as to theme, style, or number of contributions. Self-addressed stamped envelope should accompany entries.
3. Entries should be submitted as soon as possible.

Following is the poem which will be printed in Christmas Lyrics, written by Alsbaugh. It is reprinted from The Missourian of April 23rd of this year.

PHANTASMAGORIA

Utterly devoid of wit,
In a phantasmal mood I sit.
Ancient men and events
Parade before the eye,
Like a phantom Phenix.
The first to arise
Is old Pharaoh. High upon
A throne he sits. Thousands Of black backed Ethiopians Strain and groan, Pharaoh
Must have a pyramid built.
Everchanging like a Kaleidoscope, Greece takes The stage. Marching Phalanxes pass.
Now in the stadium Pericles
Addresses the Athenian crowd.
Philomela sings a Languid song.
The phantasmagorical images
Recede. Reality holds sway:

ART CLUB DISPLAY

The meeting of the Art Club held on Monday night, December 6, resulted in a display of cartoons of creatures worthy of a Baron Munchausen. These strange figures were a combination of the efforts of each member of the Art Club, and clearly showed its talent.

Sue Bell, Van Buren, Ark., president of the club, conceived the idea of writing the names of the heads, bodies, hands, and feet of various animals on slips of paper. The first cartoonist drew from the slips containing the heads and then proceeded to make a drawing of the kind of head written on her slip.

The next cartoonist did likewise after drawing from the slips containing bodies. The finished picture was not only an object of real art, but also the source of much amusement.

Following this entertainment, the group discussed possible projects for future meetings. The next meeting will be held Monday night, December 20. Anyone interested is cordially invited to come.

At Washington

By MARVIN COX
(Associated Collegiate Press Correspondent)

Washington, D. C.—The current special session of Congress has the atmosphere of a special fraternity meeting called when the members had arrangements made to go to a big dance. The fraternity members attend grudgingly and, usually, are in no mood to take up matters of importance. Their minds are elsewhere, on pretty girls or dances or other attractions.

Congressmen are attending this session grudgingly. They aren't in a humor to do much work and, up to date, they might as well have stayed home and gone hunting, as they planned to do. Your correspondent has heard many of them complain that they'd rather be home; that they didn't want to attend the special session; that they had other plans and wanted to carry them out.

So Congress isn't doing much good, and probably won't for some weeks yet.

Courses in economics, languages, literature, statistics and similar branches of knowledge now commonly associated exclusively with colleges and universities may be made available to the general public by labor unions. At least that's what's happening in Washington.

The United Federal Workers of America, a CIO affiliate, has opened a school for its members, as well as the public, and, for a nominal tuition fee, courses may be pursued in Spanish, economics, creative writing, literature and other college subjects.

Specialists in the various fields now working in Washington will compose the faculty.

Advanced learning acquired at Groton, Harvard and Columbia University Law School was insufficient for President Roosevelt to learn how to speak correctly. This conclusion would follow if charges brought by a Columbia professor—a woman at that—are true. She maintains that the President murdered the King's English on a recent speaking tour.

There is consolation for many of us in the fact that the President, too, is fallible in his use of English. And also the charges, now widely publicized, will strengthen the President with the millions and millions of voters who split an occasional infinitive without feeling horror-stricken.

Capital Snapshots: A new type of G-Man has recently been developed. This time high students are the G-Guys (and gals too, for that matter). They are used by the Daughters of the American Revolution in almost 20 states to explore genealogical records in search of obscure branches of family trees. The "G" in this instance is for "genealogical" instead of "government"... If your congressman and other Federal officials operating out of Washington aren't the epitome of charm the next time you see them, it's their own fault. A charm school is now operating here and offers the officials a fine opportunity to acquire that magnetic personality... George Washington University has its own night club. The students' lounge has been transformed into a night club except—and this is important—alcoholic refreshments. Whiskey, gin and other members of the alcohol family are taboo. As a matter of fact, this is the main reason for the "night club," to provide a wholesome atmosphere for collegiate recreation.

Spring Has Come At the Greenhouse

One has the impression of a miraculous return of spring as he steps into the College greenhouse and the odors of blooming flowers and bright colors greet his eyes.

As he goes farther more of a feeling of miracles comes upon him as he enters the botanical garden in which are growing many varieties of tropical plants.

The greenhouse is under the supervision of Dr. Frank Horsfall. Students have charge of the operation and maintenance of the flower plants, Clifton Cox, Westboro, and Vern Lawler and Donald Burn, Hopkins, Mo.

The general horticulture class propagate plants by budding, and other methods beside planting seeds in the greenhouse during winter and spring quarters. Greenhouse seeds are planted in fall and mature in mid-winter. Plants have about passed their blooming period and they will be moved to make way for the experiments.

There are four factors of environment which must be adhered to strictly if beautiful and healthy plants are to be grown. These are: fertility of the soil, moisture in the air and soil, heat and plenty of light. The three are controlled in the greenhouse for the best plant growth. Temperatures are kept between 60 and 65 degrees in the native division and in the botanical garden temperatures are kept at 65 degrees or above. Many people have the impression that a greenhouse is a house but the temperatures prove this misconception according to Dr. Horsfall.

A feeling of the tropics comes one in the botanical gardens. In section of the greenhouse there are plants native to the tropical regions of the world. Among the plants seen are six different species of palm. A lemon tree with two large lemons approximately 5 inches in diameter attracts considerable attention. Other tropical fruit plants in the garden are a grapefruit tree. Besides it is an Amazon lily from the Amazon River in South America. A rubber tree also reminds one of South America. There are banana trees with large leaves spreading out over the other tropical plants. Four different species of ferns add to the beauty of the place. A bright flowering poinsettia is in bloom for the Christmas season.

Cold realization returns to one when he steps out of the flower paradise into the wintry December blasts. This little spot of the tropics here on the campus seems strange out of place yet it is there for one to see, and for students to enjoy.

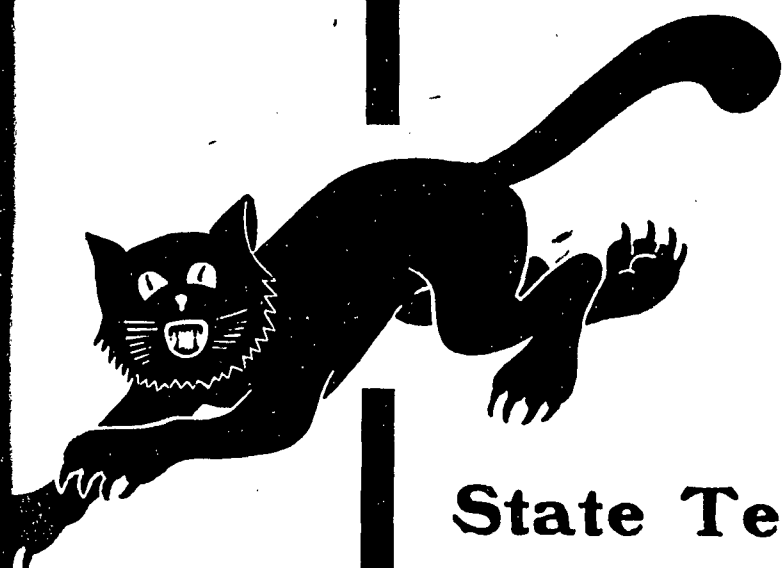

MRS. ROOSEVELT STATES RULE FOR SUCCESS

Ithaca, N. Y.—(ACP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, speaking before women students at Cornell University, told them, if they were to be successful in life, to "do more than get by."

"College graduates," she said, "have during the past years gotten jobs easier than girls with high school education, but, at that, there were many college graduates who had accepted jobs as sales girls in department stores."

Success requires more of a person than just enough ambition to get her weekly pay check, she implied.

College to See Famous Film

ted, famous archeologist and historian, and director of the Institute, and his son, Charles Breasted, who wrote the narration of the film.

"The Human Adventure" required more than three years to complete. Special planes were chartered and professional cameramen were employed to produce a story never told before on the screen. Two separate trips were made from Chicago to the Near East. More than 32,000 feet of negative were exposed. Much of the film was made from the air in more than 9,000 miles of flying.

The picture carries the audience by plane through the lands where civilization first arose, Egypt, Palestine, Syria, Antolia, Iraq and Persia. The Oriental Institute has dispatched fourteen expeditions, eight of which are filmed in the actual scientific recovery of the last chapters of the human adventure.

Out of lands where man had his earliest beginnings has come this new and unique type of talking motion picture. Its leading character is man, and its story is man's rise to civilization out of savagery. Dr. Breasted first became interested in this story by reading as a boy two illustrated books on Egypt and Syria, which started him digging in the Indian mounds around his home at Rockford, Ill.

The film will be shown on a new sound projector brought to the College by Mr. A. W. Day of Parsons, Kansas, representing Herman A. DeVry, Inc., of Chicago. The picture is sponsored by the A.A.U.W. as a benefit performance for the fellowship fund.

Frosted Windshield Causes Car Accident

Frost on the windshield and window glasses of an automobile, which hampered the vision of the driver, caused an accident on the College drive at about 7:45 o'clock last Thursday morning.

Harry Green, Clearmont, a senior in the College, last Thursday was making his regular morning trip to the College from his home town and had come as far as the curve just east of the Administration building when his car, a 1934 Plymouth coach, collided with the College car, a 1935 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Joel Trullinger.

Green said that frost which covered the window glass in his automobile hampered his vision and that he did not notice the College car until too late to avoid the crash. Neither car was traveling fast, it was stated.

Green's automobile received a smashed left front fender, a punctured front tire, and numerous scratches and dents as a result of the accident. The College car was damaged about the front and left sides.

No one was injured in the accident. College students riding with Green at the time of the accident were: Richard Parnell, Clearmont; and Eddice Barber, Marjorie Ellsworth, Mildred Ballinger and Jesse Singleton, all of Burlington Junction.

U. OF CHICAGO LIKES VOLUNTARY ATTENDANCE

Chicago, Ill.—(ACP)—Six years of operation have proved the voluntary attendance plan of education a success at the University of Chicago.

Some students have completed the four-year course in one year. Others have done it in two and the majority in less than four years. Fewer students cut classes and a greater number take post-graduate work.

But president Robert M. Hutchins believes the plan has a drawback. Attendance at classes has increased since it became non-compulsory, indicating a "slavish servility" which President Hutchins deprecates.

The student is advised not to let the university interfere with his education. If he feels he can get an education superior to that the faculty can give him, he can go to the aquarium, take a trip around the world or deposit himself with an encyclopedia.

Nora M. Schmitt, B. S. 1928, is teaching her second year in the grade school in Paonia, Colo., where Albert V. Wilson, B. S. 1925, is superintendent of schools and Elbert Barrett, B. S. 1936, is also teaching. Miss Schmitt also reports interesting work during the past five summers teaching in religious camp for young people located in Rocky Mountains area from Casper, Wyo., to Albuquerque, N. M. Mrs. Wilson, formerly Iva Lape, B. S. 1926, and Mrs. Barrett, formerly Mildred Clardy, a former student of the College, so quite a Maryville colony in Paonia. Best wishes to them from friends at the College.

Students to See Good Photography

A number of students in the College are actively interested in photography. For them especially the work of the camera men who photographed 32,000 feet of film for "The Human Adventure" should be of interest.

The principal cameraman was Reed N. Haythorne, for years a newsreel cameraman for Hearst Metrotone News, who received his first assignment when he was a boy of thirteen living in San Antonio, Tex. His orders were to get a picture of Pancho Villa, then in a revolutionary rampage in the interior of Mexico. He got the picture.

Photographed Revolution

He has since then photographed two Mexican revolutions, two Chinese revolutions, the ice-bound regions of Alaska, the descent of the mutineers of the "Bounty" Pitcairn Island in the South the Cameron and Cadle expeditions to South Africa.

Haythorne regards his trip to Chicago to the Near East as the most interesting. "In all my travels," he says, "I have seen nothing that compares with the sight of the ruins of the ancient Persopolis... Persia is truly a photographer's paradise."

Egypt One of Worst

"Egypt, on the other hand, is one of the worst places for pictures... Although I have seen many pictures of the flight of the airplane stunt performer, his duties as newsreel cameraman have flown thousands of feet into the air, I think my most interesting experience was the flight of the Persian mountains during the filming of 'The Human Adventure' one time we had to rise to a height of 14,000 feet to get a picture of a dust storm which wrecked an airplane... Dr. and Mrs. Breasted, not knowing the danger of the high altitude, was in, enjoyed the great sight of cloud-blanketed mountains low."

"The Human Adventure" is shown at the College on Thursday, Jan. 13.

It's simple arithmetic that the more cars General Motors sells the greater this organization grows. And the solid fact back of that growth is this: General Motors cars must continually offer more in terms of extra value to win those sales. It is only because General Motors is great that it can maintain the research and improvement program responsible for such modern betterments as the Turret Top, the Unisteel Body, No Draft Ventilation Knee-Action and advanced Hydraulic Brakes.
